

Making sausages, eating them and washing them down with a glass of wine – all in a farmhouse kitchen – made a convivial and jolly evening for Blockley WI members at Old Farm, Dorn.

The kitchen was packed as farmer's wife Sarah Righton handed out the aprons and instructions and soon some of the visitors were elbow-deep in bowls of sausage meat and other ingredients.

Other were busy at the oven and the hob cooking the produced. There were some interesting ingredients apart from pork – egg, bacon and mustard; sprouts, chestnuts and chilli; apple and Double Gloucester; caramelised onion and cider or spice apricots and orange.

Sarah was thanked by Janet Jarvis for a very entertaining and filling evening.

Blockley's next diary date is the annual coffee morning and bring and buy, this year being held at Thankful Steps in the High Street, at 10.30am on October 21. This is open to members and non-members.

Blockley WI's next meeting is on November 4 starting at 7pm with the annual meeting and followed by an Apple Evening. Members will be bringing along cakes, puddings, soups and drinks all made with apples. Others plan to contribute by reading a poem or piece of prose on the same fruit.

November also sees a planned shopping trip to Bath on November 18. This is open to members and non-members and costs around £10. If you'd like to go, ring 01386 700452 as soon as possible.

Blockley WI is considering reprinting its best seller, Blockley, The Past Recalled, which was published in 2001 and sold out almost immediately. To help the decision-making – get in touch with Anne Hayes if you would be interested in buying a copy of this fascinating book which is filled with old photos and newspaper reports from times past.
